Complete Inventory View

"We are very tight on time for delivering the triple play solution to the market. So in the future, the near future for that business unit that we have in our company it's very important to have some inventory solution that can allow you to recognize what you have and when you have to deliver. You know how the info structure is behaving. So with the Cramer solution is the final puzzle that we were missing to have a complete solution and a complete view of what you have in your inventory."
